

Designed by Niccole Graves, The Essence of a Delta embodies the intelligence, pride and sophistication that are associated with the "sorority sister and fraternity brother" movement. The comely doll's hands are posed in the Delta sign, and the 16-inch fashionista is also equipped with a vocal apparatus that allows her to sing a verse of "She's a D.E.L.T.A.," making her quite unique in the world of fashion dolls. Graves, a proud member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, has brought meticulous attention to details and a keen eye for style in this exciting new launch (www.trinitydesignsinc.com).

Left: Fiery and flirtatious, strong-willed and open-hearted, Scarlett O'Hara is the burning pulse at the center of Gone with the Wind. The Academy Award-winning film has reached the 70-year mark in 2009, and its legion of fans still grows today. Alexander Doll Co. (www.madamealexander.com) showcases Christmas Dinner Scarlett O'Hara, a 10-inch rendering of the Southern belle who is the original Steel Magnolia. Right: Naughty and enticing, alluring and alarming, Carmilla is a OOAK from cutting-edge artist Virginie Ropars (virginie.ropars@gmail.com). A mixed-media creation, the 26-inch femme fatale, priced at 2,400 euros, promises a dangerous and dramatic liaison.